

CV Summary

Adrián LLerena is the Director of Extremadura Biosanitary Research Institute and the Clinical Research Center in the University Hospital en Badajoz, Extremadura Spain. He is also Professor of Pharmacology and Clinical Pharmacology in two Medical Schools in the University of Extremadura Spain. He earned his PhD at University of Extremadura in 1988 and between 1989 to 1993/1995 did his post doc at Karolinska Institute Sweden focusing on Clinical Pharmacogenetics. His teaching experience is of more than 30 years in Spain and of about 9 years in Portugal. He has supervised more than 25 PhD thesis so far. He has also been an invited as Professor in different Universities in USA such as University of California at Los Angeles 2004 Mount Sinai Medical School at NY 2005 and Miller Medical School at Miami 2006, JCSMR Camberra Australia, and in Latin America such as UNAM in Mexico San Marcos in Peru Chile Brasil etc. He has published more than 200 peer reviewed papers and book chapters. He is also coordinating the RIBEF IberoAmerican network of Pharmacogenetics since 2006. He served in different Scientific societies as IberoAmerican Society of Pharmacogenomics and currently is the the President of the Spanish Society of Pharmacogenetics and Pharmacogenomics and Board Member of the ESPT European Society for Pharmacogenetics and Therapeutics . He has been Principal Investigator in more than 25 national and European research projects. He has also served as reviewer in all journals related to clinical pharmacology and mainly pharmacogenetics and clinical psychopharmacology. Currently is the leader of the IMPaCT WP05 and BioFRAM, Project of Pharmacogenetics Clinical Implementation in Spain, and MedeA Pharmacogenetics Clinical Implementation in Extremadura health System. He os a member of the Pharmacogenomics Working EMA since 2010, collaborator/advisor of several international Committees of CIOMS/WHO, OPS, etc.

Google Scholar: <https://scholar.google.es/citations?user=wdpDj4YAAAAJ&hl=es>

---